High Tension in Delhi

Tension at Jantar Mantar

INDIA bloc protests against the CEC and the election process
Opposition MPs, including Rahul and Priyanka, detained
Political tension continues in Delhi

New Delhi, October 7: A protest organized by the INDIA bloc against the Chief Election Commissioner (CEC) Gyanesh Kumar and the election process turned tense. Police intercepted several opposition MPs—including Leader of the Opposition in the Lok Sabha Rahul Gandhi and Priyanka Gandhi—as they were heading to Jantar Mantar for a protest. When the police stated that permission for the protest had not been granted, the leaders sat on the road and staged a demonstration.

On Wednesday afternoon, INDIA bloc MPs met under the leadership of Congress President Mallikarjun Kharge. Following the meeting, Rahul Gandhi decided to hold a protest at Jantar Mantar. While the alliance MPs were traveling there by bus, the police stopped them en route. Consequently, the MPs sat on the road and raised slogans.

An altercation ensued between the police and the leaders, including Rahul Gandhi and Priyanka Gandhi. As the situation escalated, the police took Rahul Gandhi into custody and moved him away from the site in a vehicle. The police also attempted to detain several other opposition leaders. The INDIA bloc is demanding the resignation of CEC Gyanesh Kumar, citing objections to the SIR. Opposition parties allege irregularities in the revision of the electoral rolls. Political tension persists in the national capital as police thwarted protests by opposition MPs for the second consecutive day.

We Will Do It: Modi’s New Battle Cry for Viksit Bharat

New Delhi: Sharing his life’s motto of “living for a mission, not ambition”, Prime Minister Narendra Modi, who completed 25 years in public life on Wednesday, asserted, “Until Bharat becomes ‘Viksit’, I will neither stop nor tire nor stray from my path.”

Renewing his push for “Viksit Bharat”, the Prime Minister said that 140-crore Indians together will build a developed nation by 2047 and gave a new battle cry, “We Will Do It!”

Addressing the Viksit Bharat Sankalp Sabha to mark a quarter-century as a head of government, Modi also highlighted his government’s achievements in different sectors and said what once seemed unimaginable has become possible. He referred to the removal of Article 370 and action against terrorism and Naxalism as examples of India’s determination to address longstanding challenges.

“When I look back today, I feel nothing but gratitude... I am grateful to every person and every experience that taught me something. Those who taught me taught me humility. Those who brought me down taught me how to rise again... My supporters encouraged me, while my critics taught me to look within. Those who stood by me showed me the power of trust,” said Modi, who was greeted with thunderous applause when he reached the venue.

Modi said those who opposed him explained to him the power of democracy and asserted that every crisis tested his patience, every success expanded his responsibilities and every achievement gave him the courage and determination to move towards greater goals.

The Prime Minister quoted several shlokas from the Bhagavad Gita during his address to highlight his focus on “karma”.

“Performing every task with full commitment, continuing without attachment and serving without concern for reward or credit has guided me... These lessons also helped dur-

Clouds of Suspicion Over VMC Tenders... Are Works Being Awarded Only to 'Insiders'?

Vijayawada: Serious objections are being raised by some contractors regarding the tender allocation process within the Vehicle Depot division of the Vijayawada Municipal Corporation. Although tenders are invited and bids are received from eligible firms, allegations persist that decisions are ultimately made to ensure the work goes to individuals known to or closely associated with the officials.

Concerns are being raised regarding issues such as the short notice period for tenders, the lack of comprehensive information provided to bidding firms about the evaluation process, and the absence of clarity on the criteria used for awarding contracts. In a competitive scenario, every bid should ideally be scrutinized according to regulations, with decisions based on eligibility, pricing, and technical standards. However, suspicions are arising as to whether the competitive process for certain vehicle depot works is merely a formality, and whether the system is being manipulated to ensure pre-selected individuals secure the contracts. There are allegations that contractors dissatisfied with VMC tenders

- Objections raised regarding vehicle depot tender allocations
- Growing questions about transparency
- Allegations that contracts are going to close associates
- Contractors demand an inquiry

certain officials associated with the vehicle depot are manipulating the process to ensure contracts are awarded to contractors who are either known to them or favor them. Many are urging senior VMC officials to conduct a thorough review and provide clarity on whether these allegations hold any truth and if the tender allocation process strictly adheres to regulations.

Meanwhile, there is talk that the vehicle depot’s Executive Engineer, Chandra Sekhar, is favoring YCP leaders—individuals known for frequently criticizing CM Chandrababu and other alliance leaders. Furthermore, allegations have surfaced that he is awarding contracts to prominent figures who were influential during the previous government’s tenure. Contractors are expressing concern over why Chandra Sekhar, who is expected to remain impartial and act beyond party lines, is extending support to YCP leaders. At a time when the state government is prioritizing development works, such allegations regarding tenders at the local body level could potentially undermine the government’s objectives. Contractors argue that these suspicions can only be dispelled by providing equal opportunities to all qualified contractors, ensuring transparency in the tender process, and disclosing selection records when necessary.

Hyderabad: In Telangana politics, allegations made by BRS leaders regarding CM Revanth Reddy’s assets and business dealings are sparking a new political debate. While facing allegations from the opposition is a common occurrence in politics, the absence of a collective response from the ruling Congress party—particularly from senior leaders—as these accusations intensify has become a topic of discussion.

Allegations against the CM... Why the silence within the Congress?

- BRS levels allegations regarding Revanth's assets
- Where is the response from senior Congress leaders?
- BRS stands firmly behind KTR
- Is the Congress distancing itself from Revanth?
- What lies behind this silence?

dence and present the actual facts to the public. At the same time, there is an argument that the entire party need not respond to every single allegation. Legal and official clarifications regarding the Chief Minister’s personal assets and business affairs can be provided on appropriate platforms if necessary. However, from a political perspective, silence also conveys a message.

This brings up a comparison with the political strategy adopted by the BRS regarding KTR. In the past, Congress circles criticized the fact that key party leaders rallied in support of KTR whenever allegations were leveled against him. Now, a similar question arises: why aren’t senior Congress leaders coming together on a unified platform to address the allegations currently facing CM Revanth Reddy? However, one cannot overlook the fact that the nature of the allegations, the evidence involved, and the political contexts differ between the two situations.

From another perspective, a debate has emerged regarding whether the silence of senior leaders within the ruling party signals internal political discord. Political analysts question why the Congress party is not presenting a united front to counter opposition allegations if it truly has full confidence in the CM’s leadership. It remains unclear whether this silence indicates dissent or if the party believes it is sufficient for the individual concerned to respond to the allegations personally.

In matters involving such allegations, transparency is far more crucial than political rhetoric. The ruling party needs to clarify its stance: does it consider the allegations made by the BRS to be true, or does it view them as entirely baseless? If the allegations are false, they should be refuted with evidence; if there is substance to them, the party should express readiness for a legal inquiry. This controversy is more likely to be resolved by placing the facts before the public rather than by diverting the issue through personal attacks and political accusations. Ultimately, the question on everyone’s mind is this: when allegations were leveled against KTR, the entire BRS stood firmly behind him; yet, when allegations arise against CM Revanth Reddy, why does the entire Congress party not appear to be rallying around him? This has become a topic of discussion in Telangana politics. Only time will tell whether this signals internal rifts within the Congress or reflects a strategic decision that not every leader needs to respond to political allegations. However, it is only natural to expect that the more serious the allegations, the clearer and more decisive the response from the ruling party should be.

GST 2.0, A WELCOME COURSE CORRECTION

Though the overall report card of the GST regime has been satisfactory, there are areas that need course correction to make the system more effective and responsive. Sweeping arrest powers were one of the provisions that drew criticism, and rightly so. It was widely seen by businesses as an instrument of harassment. The second phase of GST reforms proposes to take away arrest powers from tax officials and make a court order a prerequisite for any arrest. The 57th GST Council meeting, to be held in Delhi, is set to deliberate on the proposed reforms in the enforcement and compliance areas. This is a welcome development as it could become the next major pillar of the government's next-generation GST reforms, the GST 2.0. The key objective is to distinguish between deliberate tax evasion and genuine compliance-related issues. The prosecution threshold for tax evasion is also being raised from Rs 1 crore to Rs 5 crore. This must be seen as a move towards a more mature system — one that does not paint everybody with the same brush. Under the existing framework, authorised officers can invoke Section 69 of the CGST Act and arrest individuals suspected of specified offences, including issuing fake invoices, fraudulent input tax credit claims and collecting tax without depositing it with the government. While these powers are intended for serious violations, the prospect of arrest by tax authorities has long raised concerns about harassment of taxpayers. The proposed reforms take a more balanced approach. Ordinary disputes should primarily be settled through assessment, recovery of tax, interest and penalties. Criminal prosecution should be reserved for substantial fraud, with arrests requiring judicial scrutiny. Such a framework would strengthen due process without weakening the State's ability to penalise tax evaders. The proposals also narrow the scope of prosecution provisions so that they do not apply to routine cases. Small e-commerce sellers could use platform warehouses for GST registration. The registration system would also show applicants only the relevant sections and give them a tailored document list. The wider GST 2.0 agenda has some encouraging features. These include faster, risk-based refunds, simpler registration, protection of genuine buyers' input tax credit, and fewer low-value notices that can substantially reduce compliance costs. Allowing businesses to apply for registration in multiple States through a common process could further improve ease of doing business. The reforms must spell out a clear roadmap: trust compliant taxpayers, let technology conduct thorough risk checks, and pursue fraudsters aggressively. Overcoming the initial scepticism, technical glitches and political differences, the GST regime, an audacious indirect tax reform rolled out in 2017, has come a long way and proved largely beneficial for the country. The taxpayer base grew from 66.5 lakh at the time of launch to 1.6 crore in 2026. Steady double-digit growth, despite rate cuts, indicates base-widening and improved compliance.

Congress faces confusion over Warangal-Khammam-Nalgonda MLC polls

Khammam: There seems to be confusion within the Congress over the Warangal-Khammam-Nalgonda Graduates' Constituency MLC election. Multiple factors have been affecting the party's preparations, including efforts to streamline the cadre and leaders and, above all, launch a campaign for the polls. Initially, rumours were spread that the party's candidate, Ramreddy Sarvotham Reddy, was not interested in contesting the election due to a shortage of funds. The rumours prompted him to reach out to the media, clarifying that he was very much interested in contesting the MLC election and would win it, as Congress leaders and MLAs in the 36 Assembly constituencies falling under the Graduates' Constituency were supporting him. However, there have been complaints among party cadres in the erstwhile Warangal, Khammam and Nalgonda districts that none of the MLAs are actively involved in voter registration or campaigning, even as the BRS has been reaching out to graduates across the three districts. Meanwhile, Revenue Minister Ponguleti Srinivas Reddy's staunch follower and Right Choice IAS Academy chairman, Mendem Kiran Kumar, has entered the electoral fray and started holding meetings in Khammam and Kothagudem districts. He is engaged in the graduate voter enrolment drive and claims that he is backed by a strong network of 1.5 lakh youths in Khammam, Nalgonda and Warangal districts. He stated that he had provided quality training and guidance through the academy to help them secure jobs. Setting aside Kiran Kumar's claims and his achievements as a job trainer, his association with Minister Srinivas Reddy is what has raised curiosity in political circles. The Minister is seen as a personal benefactor of Kiran Kumar and has never missed any event organised by the latter. At present, Ministers Bhatti Vikramarka and N Uttam Kumar Reddy are monitoring the affairs related to the election. Sooner or later, Minister Srinivas Reddy might be asked to play an active role in the electioneering. In view of this, it has now become interesting for many to see whether the Minister supports his loyalist or the party candidate in the election, or asks Kiran Kumar to withdraw from the contest.

BC Commission Seeks Action Against Social Boycotts, VDC Excesses

Nizamabad:Chairman of the Telangana State Backward Classes Commission G. Niranjana has directed officials to take stringent action against Village Development Committees indulging in social boycotts, arbitrary fines and harassment in the name of village development. Niranjana said such practices continued in villages long after Independence and the formation of Telangana and stressed the need for strict enforcement of laws to eradicate them. A team of the BC Commission led by Niranjana, along with members Tirumalagiri Surender, Rapolu Jayaprakash and Balalakshmi, met victims at the integrated district offices complex here on Wednesday. Around 90 victims from different villages submitted written complaints detailing their grievances. The commission held a review meeting with collector Ila Tripathi and revenue and police officials. Niranjana sought details of action taken against VDCs and called for strict measures against committees violating the law. He proposed a special committee comprising the additional collector, police and revenue officials to monitor VDC functioning and ensure that the committees operated within the legal framework. He also called for free legal aid for victims and awareness campaigns through cultural troupes.

Collector Tripathi assured the commission that the district administration would take firm measures against social boycotts and curb unlawful activities by VDCs. Niranjana said the Telangana government was expected to introduce a BC Protection Act soon, on the lines of legislation protecting SCs and STs from atrocities. The BC Commission had submitted a comprehensive report to the state government recommending such legislation and that the government was positively considering the proposal, he said. During the commission's visit to Nizamabad, several complaints were also submitted over alleged incidents of social and caste-based boycotts. Victims from different parts of the district submitted written petitions detailing their grievances. Several complainants alleged that VDCs in different parts of the district were being used to impose social restrictions and carry out coercive practices. Leaders of BC caste associations, representatives of various sections and members of public organisations also submitted petitions and shared their views with the commission. The district administration made arrangements to enable the victims to speak freely and without fear and to ensure that those attending the hearing faced no inconvenience while submitting their complaints.

Telangana Okays 1,108 Crore To Build Dakshina Kashi Near Hyderabad

Hyderabad: The state government has accorded administrative sanction of 1,108.27 crore for the development of the Sri Omkareshwara Swamy Temple complex at Manchirevula on the Musi riverbank, bordering Narsingi and Kokapet. The government plans to develop the project as Dakshina Kashi. Of the total allocation, 948.65 crore has been sanctioned for the temple complex at Manchirevula village in Gandipet mandal and 159.62 crore for a six-lane approach and connectivity road to the complex. The eight-acre temple complex will feature a 100-foot Lord Shiva statue on the Musi River and a 100-foot Galigopuram. The Shiva statue will be surrounded by landscaped parks, while boating and other recreational facilities are also proposed. Designed by the Musi Riverfront Development Corporation Limited (MRDCL), the complex will have multiple mandapams besides the gopuram. The Vimanam — the tower over sanctum sanctorum — will measure 14 feet each in length and width and 64 feet in height. The project will also include the development of the ancient Veerabhadra Swamy temple and the nearby Machilleshwara temple, which is believed to be more than 1,400 years old. According to the municipal administration and urban development (MA&UD) department, preservation of the heritage structures will be given priority while taking up the works. The 159.62-crore six-lane approach road will be 100 feet wide and about 2.5 km long. It will connect the Greyhounds and Young India Police School areas and provide the temple complex with better connectivity to the Musi riverfront road network.

1.75 Lakh Die In Road Mishaps Across Country, Telangana 7th With 7,000, Says DGP

HYDERABAD: In order to control fatal road mishaps across the state, DGP C.V. Anand on Wednesday held a state wide video conference with officials of seven districts and identified 48 accident-prone corridors, 230 high-risk locations flagged Electronic Detailed Accident Report (e-DAR) to capture accident data and focus on reducing fatalities with zero fatality target set. Anand disclosed "more than 1.75 lakh people die in road accidents every year in the country, while Telangana records more than 7,000 road accident fatalities annually, ranking seventh in the country in terms of road accident deaths." Telangana police and transport department have drawn up a comprehensive action plan to reduce road accidents and fatalities, with special focus on seven districts identified among the high-risk districts in the country. The plan follows the directions of the centre and the Supreme Court to identify 100 districts across the country witnessing a high incidence of road accidents and undertake targeted interventions to bring down fatalities. Anand directed officials to analyse the causes of accidents in the identified districts and formulate district-specific measures aimed at achieving a 'zero fatality' objective. Anand and transport commissioner Ilambarithi held a video conference from the DGP's office here on Wednesday to review the proposed interventions. Representatives of the SaveLife Foundation, collectors of the seven identified districts, police commissioners of four commissionerates and other unit officers participated in the meeting. Accident-prone locations to be mapped DGP called for comprehensive data on road accidents and fatalities, accident-prone stretches, causes of crashes and the time periods during which accidents occur to be recorded on the Margadarshak portal and dashboard. He said systematic analysis of the available data would help identify accident-prone locations and enable the authorities to take targeted corrective measures. Officials were also asked to examine road conditions, engineering deficiencies and other factors contributing to accidents. Seven districts and 48 critical corridors were identified and road safety action plans have been prepared for Medchal-Malkajgiri, Rangareddy, Yadadri-Bhuvanagiri, Sangareddy, Hanamkonda, Warangal and Jangaon districts. According to the plans prepared by the 'Save Life Foundation' based on e-DAR data for 2024 and 2025, 48 critical road accident corridors, 230 Priority-1 locations where four or more fatalities were recorded, 220 traffic violation locations and 183 critical pedestrian accident spots have been identified across the seven districts. Sangareddy accounted for the highest number of critical corridors at 14, Rangareddy district had 98 Priority-1 accident locations, 99 traffic violation locations and 66 pedestrian accident-prone spots. The DGP directed officials to accord priority to these locations and implement measures based on the specific causes of accidents. The police department will adopt the '4E' approach — Education, Engineering, Enforcement and Emergency Support — to improve road safety, Anand said. He stressed the need for greater awareness among road users, correction of road and engineering deficiencies, strict enforcement of traffic regulations and prompt emergency medical assistance to accident victims. The authorities were asked to ensure that injured persons receive emergency medical care without delay, while deficiencies in road design and infrastructure that contribute to crashes are identified and rectified. Transport commissioner K. Ilambarithi instructed officials to ensure that every road accident is recorded on the e-DAR platform. Details of accidents and injured persons should also be uploaded on the Margadarshak portal. Geo-tagged photographs of accident locations can be uploaded on the portal's dashboard, enabling officials to monitor and assess accident-prone locations more effectively. Ilambarithi also briefed the meeting on road safety interventions being implemented in other states. Anand said the government was taking steps to establish a road, and rail safety management bureau under the police department to strengthen road safety measures.

The state Cabinet also adopted a resolution congratulating Modi at its meeting chaired by Naidu.

In a message, Naidu said Modi had emerged as the right leader for India at the right time. He said the Prime Minister's vision was steering the country towards Viksit Bharat @ 2047 and expressed pride in working alongside him.

The CM said the double-engine governments at the Centre and in Andhra Pradesh had accelerated development and investment. With the PM's support, Andhra Pradesh was advancing through improved infrastructure and expanded opportunities, he claimed.

Lokesh Calls For Joint Drive To Make AP Drug-Free

VIJAYAWADA: Education minister N. Lokesh has called for coordinated efforts by elected representatives and officials to make Andhra Pradesh a drug-free state, with greater focus on prevention, awareness and enforcement.

At a meeting of the ministers' group on drug prevention chaired by home minister Vangalapudi Anitha at Undavalli, Lokesh said EAGLE clubs had been established in all government high schools to create awareness among students about the harmful effects of drugs.

He directed officials to expand programmes such as Operation Chaitanya and Operation Safe Campus Zone in agency areas to educate tribal communities about the dangers of narcotics. He also called for wider implementation of the "Drugs Vaddu Bro" campaign to reach and sensitise youngsters.

Lokesh stressed the need for a regulatory framework to prevent the transportation of drugs and products such as ganja chocolates and asked officials to study the issue. He directed that EAGLE officials be involved in cluster-level meetings conducted by the education department to design drug-awareness programmes.

He suggested monthly town-hall meetings with students in universities and colleges and said enthusiastic teachers would be entrusted with responsibilities to motivate students across the State. EAGLE officials must align their efforts with the Centre's Nasha Mukta Bharat objective and study the Punjab police's approach to tackling synthetic drugs.

Lokesh proposed a southern states' conclave on drug prevention in Visakhapatnam to improve coordination among states.

The ministers' group also decided to undertake field visits to create public awareness.

Home minister Anitha said strict action was being taken against those transporting ganja into AP from Odisha and directed officials to strengthen surveillance at checkpoints along the Odisha border and expand drone monitoring. She said a special "Break the Silence" programme was being conducted to create awareness.

EAGLE IG Aake Ravikrishna said ganja chocolates recently seized in Visakhapatnam and Narasaraopet were traced to Bihar and Uttar Pradesh, prompting alerts to senior police officials in those states. He said 20 medical shops selling scheduled drugs and cough syrups without doctors' prescriptions had been sealed.

He said police had identified drug-using groups in Vijayawada and Rajamahendravaram and were taking stringent action. Thirty-six trained sniffer dogs were being used to detect ganja and drug transportation, while suspected users were being screened with rapid drug detection kits.

Ravikrishna said 192 active repeat offenders involved in drug-related activities had been identified and stringent action was being taken against them.

Ministers Satya Yadav, Kollu Ravindra and Gummadi Sandhyarani, Intelligence chief Mahesh Ladha and Home department principal secretary Kumara Viswajeet attended the meeting.

CII Regional Summit Highlights AP's Investment Push

VISAKHAPATNAM: Civil aviation minister Kinjarapu Ram Mohan Naidu has noted that Andhra Pradesh is emerging as an investment destination, supported by faster approvals, industry-friendly policies and stable governance.

Addressing the CII Regional Summit at the Indian Institute of Management in Gambhiram, near here, he said the state was progressing fast with better Centre-state cooperation. Highlighting the summit's theme, Time is Now, Investment is Key, Ram Mohan noted that investors were increasingly choosing Andhra Pradesh because of the state's efforts to expedite project approvals through the APIIC single-window mechanism.

The central minister noted that project proposals were being processed and cleared within six to 12 months, encouraging industries to come to the state.

Ram Mohan Naidu, accompanied by heavy industries minister T.G. Bharat and minister B.C. Janardhan Reddy, visited an exhibition showcasing innovations and products from various sectors. The exhibition featured 25 companies representing industries including hydraulics, metallurgy, manufacturing technology, healthcare, agritech, electronics, renewable energy and speciality products.

Products from north Andhra, including Araku coffee, Pondhuru khadi, Madugula halwa and Etikoppaka wooden toys, were also displayed, highlighting the region's industrial and cultural diversity.

The exhibition provided a platform for entrepreneurs, investors and industry leaders to network and created market opportunities for local producers.

Addressing the media, Bharat said the government's focus was not merely on signing MoUs, but on converting investment proposals into operational projects. He said proposals worth about Rs 14 lakh crore had received cabinet approval and these could generate more than 10 lakh jobs.

Including previously signed agreements, investments worth nearly `22 lakh crore to `23 lakh crore had reached the confirmation stage, he said.

Bharat reiterated the government's target of creating 20 lakh jobs over the next five years through industrial expansion and infrastructure development.

He said regional investment conferences were being organised ahead of the state's flagship Partnership Summit, scheduled for Nov 12 and 13. Conserve Manjeera, Singur Water for Next Seven Months: Jagga Reddy SANGAREDDY, October 7, 2026: TPCC Working President Jagga Reddy has urged people of Sangareddy constituency to use drinking water judiciously for the next seven months, warning that the situation could become critical until the next monsoon.

Reviewing drinking water and power supply issues with officials of Electricity, RWS, Mission Bhagiratha and municipal departments, Jagga Reddy said Singur reservoir, the main source of drinking water for the region, currently has only around 3 TMC of water against its 29-TMC capacity.

He said the available water could support drinking water requirements only for a limited period and stressed the need for strict conservation. Mission Bhagiratha officials informed the meeting that drinking water would be supplied on alternate days after Dasara.

Jagga Reddy directed officials and public representatives to create awareness among people in Sangareddy and Sadasivpet municipalities and the four mandals about water conservation. He suggested door-to-door awareness campaigns, distribution of pamphlets and announcements through public-address systems.

He appealed to residents to prevent wastage by closing taps when not in use and suggested measures such as timer starters and soak pits near single-phase motors to reduce water wastage. He also called for regulating excessive pumping of water from the Manjeera and Singur areas.

The meeting also discussed regulating the Hyderabad Metro Water Works' drawal from the Manjeera barrage according to the present water availability, so that drinking water supply to Sangareddy municipality could be sustained for a longer period. Officials were asked to make advance arrangements for supplying water through tankers, if necessary.

On the recent release of water from the Singur project, Jagga Reddy said the decision was taken based on recommendations of technical experts after Dam Safety officials inspected the project and identified damage to a portion of the dam. He said the release was carried out under the supervision of Chief Minister A. Revanth Reddy, Irrigation Minister N. Uttam Kumar Reddy and District Minister Damodar Rajanarsimha, as per the expert committee's recommendations.

He said the decision was aimed at protecting the dam and urged opposition parties not to politicise a technically necessary measure.

Power supply issues were also reviewed, with leaders pointing out frequent breakdowns and damage to motors. Jagga Reddy said a special review meeting with Electricity Department officials would be held next Tuesday at 11 a.m. to address the problems.

Congress Demands Action Against BJP Leadership; Challenges NRR Over His Statements

HYDERABAD: Patient footfall at Nizam's Institute of Medical Sciences (Nims) has risen sharply over the past month, with the hospital recording more than 5,000 outpatients a day, according to a release issued by the institute.

On October 5, Nims recorded 5,635 outpatient visits, 5,088 diagnostic investigations and 306 inpatient admissions.

Hospital authorities said the daily outpatient count, which earlier averaged around 3,500, had increased considerably, with 5,635 marking the highest single-day OP attendance recorded recently.

The number of patients undergoing diagnostic tests has also risen. On October 5, 5,088 patients underwent various investigations, while 306 were admitted for inpatient treatment.

Emergency admissions have also increased from around 50 a day earlier to between 80 and 90 patients daily, the hospital said.

Nims authorities attributed the rise in footfall to the availability of advanced medical facilities, specialist doctors and expanded services.

The hospital has also extended OP registration timings from the earlier 8 am-11 am window to 2 pm. Authorities said the extension, along with the availability of several investigation reports on the same day, had made services more convenient for patients.

The hospital said the increase in outpatient, inpatient, emergency and diagnostic services reflected growing reliance on Nims for tertiary healthcare.

Arrests of Opposition Leaders an Assault on Democracy: Revanth Reddy

New Delhi: Telangana Chief Minister A. Revanth Reddy launched a blistering attack on the Union government on Wednesday, accusing it of orchestrating a conspiracy to strip citizens of their fundamental voting rights and attempting to divide the nation into “two classes of citizens—those with voting rights and those without.”

Speaking to the media in New Delhi following his detention by police on Wednesday night, the Chief Minister strongly condemned the arrest of Congress President Mallikarjun Kharge, Leader of the Opposition in the Lok Sabha Rahul Gandhi, and AICC General Secretary Priyanka Gandhi Vadra. The Congress leaders were detained while demanding the resignation of Chief Election Commissioner (CEC) Gyanesh Kumar over alleged widespread discrepancies in the electoral rolls (SIR).

Terming the arrests a direct assault on democracy, Revanth Reddy said the Centre was targeting opposition leaders instead of acting against officials responsible for electoral roll manipulation.

‘From Simon Go Back to GK Go Back’

Drawing a parallel with the freedom struggle, Revanth Reddy invoked the historic ‘Simon Go Back’ agitation, calling on citizens to rally behind the nationwide ‘GK (Gyanesh Kumar) Go Back’ movement.

He warned that the stir would not subside until the CEC stepped down. Recalling the year-long farmers’ agitation, the Chief Minister noted that the Modi government was forced to repeal the contentious farm laws under intense public pressure. He asserted that the Centre would face a similar fate now, warning that an obstinate stance could snowball into an escalation demanding the Prime Minister’s resignation.

‘ECI Weaponised for Political Gain’

The Chief Minister made it clear that the constitutional right to vote cannot be usurped by any authority. He accused the Centre of previously weaponising central agencies like the Enforcement Directorate (ED), Central Bureau of Investigation (CBI), and Income Tax Department against political opponents, adding that it has now compromised the Election Commission of India (ECI) for electoral advantage.

Revanth Reddy warned that the Congress party would foil all attempts to engineer election outcomes through arbitrary deletions from voter lists. He further argued that the heavy-handed police conduct towards Rahul Gandhi and Priyanka Gandhi laid bare the intolerance of Prime Minister Narendra Modi and Union Home Minister Amit Shah.

A People’s Movement to Save Democracy

Emphasising that the agitation extends beyond party lines, Revanth Reddy stated that the INDIA bloc and citizens across the country are closely monitoring developments around the electoral discrepancies.

He warned that regimes that trample upon constitutional guarantees inevitably face rejection in the people’s court, urging the Union government to heed public outrage, remove Gyanesh Kumar from office, and restore institutional integrity. Congress cadre nationwide, he added, will escalate the democratic battle inside and outside Parliament to protect the Constitution.

Harish Rao tears into Bhatti over power crisis, Rs 5,420 crore true-up burden

Harish Rao attacked the Telangana government over the Rs 5,420-crore true-up burden, questioned Bhatti Vikramarka’s claims on power supply and coal availability, and demanded withdrawal of the charges. He warned that the BRS would launch a public agitation if they remained Hyderabad: BRS Legislature Party deputy leader T Harish Rao on Wednesday launched a sharp attack on Deputy Chief Minister Mallu Bhatti Vikramarka for evading questions on the Rs 5,420-crore true-up burden and failing to address the State’s power crisis. Asking why Bhatti had not answered his questions on the true-up charges, he demanded the immediate withdrawal of the Rs 5,420-crore burden.

He reiterated that the BRS would launch a public agitation if the charges were not withdrawn. He also demanded that the government put an end to power cuts instead of targeting the opposition for raising people’s issues.

In a strong rebuttal to Bhatti Vikramarka’s remarks, Harish Rao questioned how the government could claim uninterrupted power supply when farmers were staging protests outside substations and on roads seeking power. He said the Congress government’s administrative failures had resulted in both power and irrigation shortages. He asked why the Deputy Chief Minister remained silent on the plight of farmers in the State.

“Instead of withdrawing the true-up charges or at least owning up to the decision taken by his government, Bhatti Vikramarka kept the onus of explanation on the officials sitting next to him at the press conference. How can he justify the true-up burden on the people of the State?” he asked.

The former Minister challenged Bhatti Vikramarka’s claims on coal supplies to the Yadadri Thermal Power Plant, citing a 2018 Union Coal Ministry allocation of 14 million tonnes per annum of G-9 grade coal from Singareni mines. He sought to know why the Deputy Chief Minister had misled people with claims that the Yadadri Thermal Power Plant had no dedicated coal allocation during the BRS rule.

He said the Congress government was blaming the previous BRS regime for its failure to ensure adequate coal stocks and operate the thermal power stations at full capacity.

Questioning the government’s El Niño explanation, he alleged that thermal power units totalling 3,000 MW at Yadadri, 540 MW at Bhadradi and 800 MW at KTPS were not being operated. He also questioned why the government was generating only 89 million units against an overall capacity of 140 million units.

Harish Rao raised questions over mandating site-visit certification for Singareni coal tenders, the proposed supply of 800 MW of Singareni power to Rajasthan and the rejection of an NTPC offer to supply 1,600 MW without any upfront investment. “These decisions are nothing but callousness and detrimental to the State’s power requirements,” he added.

He also sought disclosure of the alleged proposal for an Energy Reforms Committee to examine IPOs and fresh borrowings by power-sector entities. He accused the government of creating conditions for privatisation and said employees had protested against the outsourcing of coal and ash-handling operations at the Yadadri plant.

Modi To Open India Mobile Congress

New Delhi: Prime Minister Narendra Modi will inaugurate the 10th edition of the India Mobile Congress (IMC) in the national capital on Thursday.

Jointly organised by the Department of Telecommunications (DoT) and the Cellular Operators Association of India (COAI), the event is being held from October 7 to 10 under the theme “Scale Without Boundaries”, reflecting India’s growing capabilities in digital innovation, next-generation connectivity and technology-led growth.

The Prime Minister’s Office (PMO) said the four key pillars of IMC 2026 would be “Srishti: Building the Future”, “Samvardhan: Fueling Growth”, “Sashakt: Expanding Opportunities” and “Suraksha: Strengthening Trust”.

“It will focus on innovation and next-generation digital infrastructure, technology-led economic growth, inclusive digital access, and the development of secure and resilient digital ecosystems. IMC 2026 will bring together global technology leaders, policymakers, industry experts, startups, investors and innovators to explore emerging opportunities across the digital ecosystem,” the PMO said.

The event will cover nine established anchor sectors: 5G and 6G, next-generation AI networks, semiconductors, non-terrestrial networks, cyber security, quantum communication, enterprise transformation, circular economy and ESG, and electronics manufacturing. It will also expand its focus to four new domains — smart mobility, stadium experiences, industrial robotics and transport technology.

IMC 2026 is expected to attract more than 1.5 lakh attendees from over 100 countries, with participation from over 500 partners and exhibitors, more than 600 startups and over 900 thought leaders. It will feature more than 2,000 technology use cases and over 120 sessions.

India Pushes Black Sea Plan in Ukraine Talks

New Delhi: India has been engaging both Russia and Ukraine in efforts to promote peace and its initiative has been appreciated by both sides, the external affairs ministry said on Wednesday.

The statement came days after Ukraine said India had submitted one of four proposals for a possible ceasefire, describing the Indian proposal as the “broadest”.

MEA spokesperson Randhir Jaiswal said India was in talks with Moscow and Kyiv on issues including safe shipping in the Black Sea, grain and energy exports and possible non-attack arrangements.

“We have ongoing conversations with both Russia and Ukraine in this regard,” he said.

Jaiswal reiterated India’s position that dialogue and diplomacy were the way forward and that solutions to the conflict would not emerge from the battlefield.

He recalled Prime Minister Narendra Modi’s recent remarks to Russian President Vladimir Putin that the time had come for “endless war to give way to end of war”.

External affairs minister S. Jaishankar had earlier said that even agreement between Russia and Ukraine on limited issues would be a positive development.

Speaking recently at the Kautilya Economic Conclave, Jaishankar said India remained in contact with both sides and believed the effort was worth pursuing despite the difficulty of the situation.

At the Munich Leaders’ Meeting in New Delhi on Sunday, he said India had moved in recent months from merely advocating dialogue to becoming more directly involved in conversations with both sides.

Ukrainian foreign minister Andrii Sybiha had said proposals for a possible ceasefire had been received from India, Turkiye, Egypt and the United States.

Trump Administration Proposes A $70,000 Fee for International Students to Work in the US

WASHINGTON: The Department of Homeland Security on Wednesday proposed a $70,000 fee for international students seeking to work in the United States, the latest effort from the Trump administration to crack down on foreign enrollment. A proposed rule would require schools to pay the fee for every student who participates in the optional practice training program, known as OPT, which allows students to work in jobs related to their major during or after their time in school. Students are generally eligible for one year of work post-graduation, though certain science, technology, engineering and math majors are eligible for an additional two years.

Schools would be required to pay the $70,000 for each new student’s initial application to the program, and a $30,000 fee for each renewal. Change would be a blow to higher education and some businesses American colleges and universities heavily recruit students from overseas as a source of tuition revenue. Tech companies and other industries also hire many international students for technical roles.

The OPT program allows international students to gain hands-on experience and fill labor shortages in high-demand STEM fields, said Fanta Aw, CEO of NAFSA, an association that represents international education. “Driving away the talents, perspectives, and aspirations of international students will only hurt American innovation, economic growth, workforce development, and global leadership,” Aw said in a written statement.

In a statement, DHS described the fee as a response to fraud and abuse of the visa program, which it called a “pipeline for cheap foreign labor.” The public has 60 days to comment on the proposal before DHS can finalize it and put it into effect. The proposal also could face legal challenges from higher education groups or business associations that could delay it.

Trump administration puts pressure on international students The proposed rule is part of its wider efforts to crack down on immigration and reshape higher education. Last year, the Republican administration began suddenly terminating the legal status of thousands of international students, detaining and deporting many of them. This summer, the administration finalized a rule that sought to prevent international students from staying in the U.S. for more than four years without approval from the federal government. The move drew swift backlash from higher education leaders who said it would increase the burden on schools and noted that many programs are longer than four years by design.

Arctic Open: Sindhu, Tanvi Sharma advance as Indian shuttlers suffer setbacks

Vantaa: PV Sindhu began her Arctic Open 2026 campaign with a routine straight-game victory over Canada's Wen Yu Zhang on Tuesday, but the Indian contingent in women's singles suffered several setbacks in the opening round of the BWF Super 500 tournament in Vantaa, Finland.

The sixth-seeded Sindhu needed only 28 minutes to dispatch Canada's Wen Yu Zhang 21-8, 21-11 and book her place in the second round. The two-time Olympic medallist, who reached the quarterfinals at the Asian Games 2026, will next take on Japan's Riko Gunji.

Sindhu was in control from the outset against Zhang, who had entered the main draw through qualifying. The Indian quickly established a substantial lead in the opening game and never allowed her Canadian opponent to settle into the contest.

While Sindhu progressed without much trouble, the same could not be said of several of her compatriots.

Unnati Hooda came within two points of completing a comeback against China's Han Qianxi. After dropping the opening game 21-16, Hooda responded strongly to take the second 21-15. The decider went down to the wire, but Han held her nerve to prevail 24-22 after 68 minutes.

Ashmita Chaliha also pushed her higher-ranked opponent all the way. The Indian recovered from a 21-7 opening-game loss against seventh seed Line Christophersen, forcing a decider by taking the second game 21-14. Christophersen eventually survived the contest 26-24 in the third.

Malvika Bansod's progress also ended in the opening round. After making her way through qualifying with a win over Chinese Taipei's Sung Shuo-yun, Bansod was beaten 21-18, 21-13 by Scotland's Kirsty Gilmour.

Isharani Baruah faced the toughest possible challenge in the form of top seed Ratchanok Intanon. The former world champion from Thailand controlled the contest and secured a 21-10, 21-15 victory.

Tanvi Sharma, however, ensured India had another winner in the women's singles draw, defeating Chinese Taipei's Chiu Pin-Chian 21-15, 21-17.

India's mixed doubles campaign also suffered an early blow, with Ishan Bhatnagar and Shruti Mishra losing heavily to Thailand's Pakkapon Teeraratsakul and Sapsiree Taerattanachai, 21-3, 21-6.

The men's singles qualifiers provided more encouraging news. Tharun Manneapalli fought past Belgium's Julien Carraggi 21-12, 19-21, 21-13, while Rounak Chouhan recovered from losing the opening game to defeat Israel's Daniel Dubovenko 18-21, 21-17, 21-19.

Both Manneapalli and Chouhan consequently secured places in the main draw, where they will join established Indian names Kidambi Srikanth and HS Prannoy.

There was disappointment in the men's doubles qualifiers, however, as Achutaditya Rao Doddavarapu and Arjun Reddy Pochana were unable to secure a place in the main draw.

The Arctic Open represents the return of the BWF World Tour following the Asian Games break, with Indian players now looking to build momentum on the international circuit. For the women's singles contingent, Sindhu and Sharma remain in contention after the opening round, while the men's draw has gained two additional Indian entries through qualifying.

Chikitha Taniparthi looks to build on Asian Games gold in APL Season 2

Fresh from winning gold at the Asian Games, Telangana archer Chikitha Taniparthi is looking forward to competing on home soil as Archery Premier League Season 2 begins in Hyderabad. The league features 48 archers across six teams in a fast-paced format

Hyderabad: Building on her learning experiences from the inaugural season, Telangana archer Chikitha Taniparthi, fresh from her gold medal-winning exploits at the Asian Games, is relishing the prospect of shooting on her home soil as the second season of the Archery Premier League, the world's only franchise-based league for archery, gets underway from Thursday in Hyderabad.

The return of the APL, after a successful first season in New Delhi, coincides with India's sensational performance in Aichi-Nagoya that saw the country's archery contingent emerge as the best in the field, ahead of powerhouse South Korea. Now, the country's star archers will take centre stage from October 8 to 18 at People's Plaza on Hyderabad's Necklace Road.

This time, the medal-winning archers will be involved in a completely different setting, shooting against their own national teammates in some cases and with a quicker shooting deadline, with each arrow allotted an average of just 15 seconds in a thrilling format. The APL will also witness recurve and compound archers going up against each other, another novelty that makes this franchise league stand out from regular World Archery events on the international circuit. The league also unveiled an anthem and mascot as part of the proceedings on Wednesday.

Taniparthi, who hails from Peddapalli, said she learned from watching the top archers in the APL's first season and that it helped her refine her game.

"During the first season of APL, playing for the Chola Chiefs, I learnt a lot about managing pressure under the faster shot clock of 15 seconds per arrow as well as learning techniques from my teammates while watching them train. It helped a lot in me getting better as an archer, and played a part in winning gold medal at the Asian Games," she said at the launch event of APL Season 2 in the city on Wednesday.

APL Director Anil Kamineni said interest in the league had only increased since the first edition this time last year.

Each region has the kings and emperors, etc. So that's when we said, it's not only going to be sport; it is going to be showcasing the heritage and culture of our country," he said.

Archery Association of India treasurer Dr Joris Paulose Ummacheril was also present at the launch event.

The six-team league has a total of 48 Indian and international archers competing across recurve and compound disciplines. Each team has a mixed squad of eight archers, with the competition following a double round-robin format.

In each match, four archers shoot two arrows per set, competing for two points per iteration. At the end of the league stage, the top four teams will advance to the semi-finals, culminating in the final on October 18.

APL Season 2 will be broadcast on Sony LIV, Doordarshan Sports and World Archery TV. Tickets are available on District by Zomato.

Shreyas Looked Unstoppable; A Strong Signal That He is Back To Best: Gavaskar

Captain Shreyas Iyer announced his return to form in style, smashing his maiden T20I century as India cruised to an eight-wicket victory over West Indies while chasing 172 in the first T20I to take a 1-0 lead in the five-match series.

Speaking on JioStar's Haier Cricket Live, Ishan Kishan reflected on his partnership with Iyer, Naman Dhir's performance with the ball and his comeback journey to the international side, while JioStar expert Sunil Gavaskar praised Iyer's innings and shared his views on the Sanju Samson-Vaibhav Sooryavanshi debate. Speaking on JioStar's 'Haier Cricket Live', Ishan Kishan reflected on his partnership with Captain Shreyas Iyer and why he was happy to play the second fiddle:

"As a batter, when I'm not looking in that great of a touch and the batter at the other end is looking in great form and is connecting the ball well, in this case Shreyas Iyer, then I don't mind playing second fiddle at all. He was scoring the bulk of the runs in our partnership and when he's batting beautifully, it's my job to let him punish the opposition bowlers. He did that job remarkably and, in the end, we executed the run chase successfully. The plan was simple. We had a target in mind, and we broke it down into small parts. Whenever the bowler bowled in my zone, I looked to score. On the other end, Shreyas was in full flow, so we just kept the scoreboard moving. There was no panic because we knew one good over would change the game. That is what happened and we got over the line." *On Naman Dhir's performance with the ball:

"I have seen Naman bowl during my Mumbai Indians days and at that time I would say he was more of a part-time bowler. But looking at how he was bowling in this match and the confidence he had, after getting hit for a six, on your debut, you tend to go more defensive. But Naman didn't do that and kept on giving that extra flight to the opposition batters, which helped him get a couple of wickets in his debut game. Him not going defensive and attacking the batters is something that makes you understand that this player has actually worked hard on his bowling, on his skill. It shows he has the mindset to take wickets and not just survive. If he keeps bowling like this,

he will go a long way."

On being dropped from the international team and how he worked his way back:

"When I was dropped from the international team, I understood the consequences of a few mistakes that I had made. So, I worked on my fitness and my batting. I stayed patient and focused on rectifying my mistakes by doing well in domestic cricket. I knew if I kept performing in domestic cricket, the opportunity would come and I earned the recall to the national squad because of my hard work. Once you come back to the side, you don't think about what's going to happen if I get dropped again. The most important thing is to enjoy cricket and just focus on doing the best I can to contribute to the success of the team. My job is to keep scoring runs and if I am able to do that, then the rest will be taken care of automatically."

Speaking on JioStar's 'Haier Cricket Live', JioStar expert Sunil Gavaskar heaped praise on Shreyas Iyer's 102-run knock:

"It was a sublime knock from Shreyas Iyer. He looked unstoppable, and no matter what lines and lengths the West Indian bowlers bowled, Iyer had an answer to everything. The shots he played were a treat to watch, especially the upper cut off Romario Shepherd, which showed that he meant business. Shreyas Iyer has had a bit of a torrid time with the bat since becoming the captain of this Indian T20I squad. In recent times, the wins have come, but his own form with the bat was a concern. So, it was important for him to play a big knock, and he delivered in this first T20I. Iyer took complete control of the run chase and continued to accelerate through the middle overs. He reached his fifty in just 28 balls and then shifted gears completely, going from 50 to 102 in the space of just 15 balls. There had been questions on social media about Shreyas' batting form, and this hundred has silenced all of them. This knock is a strong signal that Shreyas Iyer is back to his best."

On the Sanju Samson-Vaibhav Sooryavanshi debate: "Sanju scored two half centuries against Afghanistan as an opener. Then he had a bad run of games at the Asian Games but he was batting at number three there, so I won't really blame him. Now, he's back opening the innings and got out after scoring 11 runs in this first T20I. But that is not enough for me to drop him from the team in favour of young Vaibhav Sooryavanshi. You have to give a player a fair run, especially someone who has just come back into a role he is comfortable with. One low score does not change anything. Sanju has shown what he can do at the top of the order and he deserves a longer rope. Vaibhav is a special talent, and his time will come, but for now, Sanju is the right man to open in this series against West Indies. You cannot keep chopping and changing after every game. That only creates insecurity in the dressing room."

India, Qatar Among Seven Countries in Race to Host 2036 Olympics

New Delhi: Sports Minister Mansukh Mandaviya and Indian Olympic Association President P T Usha on Wednesday announced that the country's bid to host the 2036 Olympics will revolve around the vision of "Rising Together" and its first presentation to the IOC's Future Host Commission will be at the end of this month. The International Olympic Committee (IOC) on Tuesday said India, Germany, Qatar and Türkiye are among seven countries with a stated interest in hosting the 2036 Olympics and have been invited to present their Games projects to the IOC's Future Host Commission next month.

"India's ambition for 2036 is rooted in a simple idea: that sport can help shape the future of our nation. Hosting the Olympic and Paralympic Games would inspire millions of young Indians to participate in sport, strengthen healthier and more active communities, and create new opportunities for our youth across education, employment and social development," stated Mandaviya in a press release issued by the IOA.

Ahmedabad is India's city of choice to host the mega-event, which has never been held in the country before. India submitted its Expression of Interest to host the Games in 2024.

Usha said the IOA feels deeply honoured by the IOC's recognition of India's aspirations.

"...proud to be part of an exceptional group of potential hosts for future editions of the Games," she said.

"For us, 'Rising Together' is not simply a slogan -- it is a powerful commitment to unite India's energy, ambition and diversity behind a shared Olympic dream.

"As we develop our vision for 2036, we want to create a Games that reflects the confidence of a young, dynamic and rising India, while contributing to the Olympic and Paralympic Movements' ambition to reach new generations, new communities and new horizons around the world.

"We look forward to continuing our exchange with the IOC and to present our ambition to the Future Host Commission for the first time at the end of October," she added.

The IOC said projects will be assessed on a number of technical factors such as venue master-plan and athlete experience, funding strategy, political and public support, Games delivery capabilities, and legacy strategy to create long-term benefits for host communities.

The next phase after the November presentations will be Strategic Dialogue instead of Targeted Dialogue, which will remain the final phase of decision-making process even in the revamped host selection process. The last phase will begin in 2028.

The IOA said 'Rising Together' reflects the belief that 2036 can be a moment of India's transformation through sport.

Anakapalli Makers Hope for More Theatres This Dasara

The recently released Telugu film Anakapalli is getting a positive response from audiences after its theatrical release on October 2. The film, which has a raw and rustic backdrop, features Vikram Sahidev, Sandhya Vasishtha and Tarak Ponnappa in important roles. Khagesh Tammineni directed the movie, while Thrinadha Rao Nakkina handled the story and screenplay.

Produced by Kandregula Naidu and Thrinadha Rao Nakkina under Bhavya Sri Movie Makers and Nakkina Narratives, the film team organised a Thank You Meet on Tuesday to celebrate the audience response. The makers said that several shows are continuing to receive good crowds, while they also expressed disappointment over the limited number of theatres.

Actor, producer and director Thrinadha Rao Nakkina spoke about the film's journey and audience response. He said, "I did not invest any money in 'Anakapalli'. They used my name because they felt audiences would come to watch the film if my name was associated with it. I waited until Monday to see the result. Not just Monday, even today (Tuesday), there is a strong audience turnout. Shows are houseful at several places. The film is receiving a positive response from all quarters. All the artistes are also receiving appreciation for their performances. I request the media and audiences to continue supporting the film and take it even further."

Lagadapati Sridhar, who is associated with the film through his son Vikram Sahidev, also expressed confidence in its success. He said, "I am very happy to be part of the success of 'Anakapalli'. Vikram being my son and Thrinadha Rao garu and Naidu garu coming forward to support him is a great thing. The media always stands by small films and supports them. When 'Evadi Gola Vadide' was released, people said it would be removed within the first week. But it eventually completed a Silver Jubilee in the same theatre. Similarly, 'Anakapalli' will also achieve great success. It will stand out as a Dasara Dhamaka. Even the Monday night shows were full. I pray that with the blessings of Nookalamma Thalli, 'Anakapalli' achieves even greater success."

Producer Kandregula Naidu said that the movie was made with strong belief in the story and the team. He said, "I made 'Anakapalli' because of my faith in Thrinadha Rao Nakkina garu. We released our film in 200 theatres. We worked extremely hard to make this movie. However, theatres are being allocated to films from other languages instead of supporting a film that is receiving such a good response. I request everyone to support small producers like us when we come forward with good films. Even today, our shows are houseful at many places. We have made a good movie, and I request the distributors to allot more theatres to our film."

Hero Vikram Sahidev thanked the audience and media for their response. He said, "'Anakapalli' is receiving a great response. I have read all the reviews. Thank you to everyone who pointed out both the positives and negatives of our film. The number of theatres screening our movie is also increasing. I thank Thrinadha Rao garu for trusting me and giving me this opportunity. Because of Indrara garu, the family drama came out so beautifully. Davzand garu's music is fantastic. It was a pleasure working with Tarak Ponnappa garu. Sandhya Vasishtha performed wonderfully. During this journey, our producers Naidu garu and Raja garu have become like family members. I hope to continue travelling with them in the future as well."
