Telangana had surplus budget because of former CM Rosaiah's foresight: CM Revanth Reddy

Hyderabad, Sep 13 : Telangana Chief Minister A. Revanth Reddy said on Sunday that Telangana had a surplus budget thanks to the foresight of (undivided) Andhra Pradesh's former Chief Minister K. Rosaiah. When Telangana was formed on June 2, 2014, with a surplus budget of Rs 16,000 crore, the credit went to Rosaiah, Revanth Reddy said at the groundbreaking ceremony of Arya Vysya Atma Gourava Bhavan (community and cultural centre) at Uppal Bhagayath here. He noted that former Chief Ministers Chenna Reddy, Vijaya Bhaskar Reddy, and Y.S. Rajasekhara Reddy entrusted the responsibility of managing the state's finances (the treasury) to Arya Vysyas. Rosaiah, belonging to the Arya Vysya community, was the longest-serving Finance Minister of undivided Andhra Pradesh. He presented the state Budget 16 times, including seven times in a row. CM Revanth Reddy said it was the Congress that gave Rosaiah the opportunity and the respect he deserved. He recalled that Rosaiah was the one who recognised his potential early on, revealing that when he used to speak aggressively in the Legislative Council, the veteran leader would call him aside and advise him to control his temper and move forward with experience to achieve greater heights. Rosaiah was not one to criticise harshly or use abusive language; instead, he would deliver sharp and witty remarks, he said. Revanth Reddy said his government installed a statue of Rosaiah in the heart of Hyderabad to honour and uphold his dignity. "Some people criticised the installation of Rosaiah's statue in Hyderabad. He came to Hyderabad four decades ago and declared Hyderabad his home through thick and thin. Respecting his words, we installed the statue in Hyderabad." The Chief Minister stated that Arya Vysyas are gentle by nature and possess a strong sense of self-respect. "They possess foresight and prudence. It's in their DNA," he said. Despite many Arya Vysyas facing poverty, they never wished to be labelled as poor because they value their dignity above all. He said that in villages, Arya Vysya brothers lend money even to the poorest person, at least for food. The Chief Minister mentioned that Arya Vysyas are known by various names in different regions.

Amaravati, Sep 13 : YSR Congress Party president Y. S. Jagan Mohan Reddy continues his attacks on Andhra Pradesh Chief Minister N. Chandrababu Naidu over the alleged irregularities in the recruitment of teachers through DSC. The former Chief Minister on Sunday came out with another post on social media over the DSC scam. "One teacher post. A rollercoaster of twists & turns in this DSC scam," posted YS Jagan. The YSRCP chief explained various twists in the appointment of a teacher. The post was reportedly awarded with 65 TET marks, after the candidate passed through 7 stages of verification. "The DEO confirmed the candidate to be ineligible. So the obvious question is: What actually was verified in those 7 stages?" According to YS Jagan, the third twist was that the candidate got the job but didn't know. The candidate himself reportedly said that he did not know how he got the job. The former CM highlighted the fourth twist: a sudden 77 marks.

Lucknow, Sep 13 : Bahujan Samaj Party (BSP) chief Mayawati on Sunday said stronger cooperation among BRICS countries could offer hope amid growing global conflicts and economic challenges, while welcoming discussions around a BRICS currency and the grouping's positions on Palestine and terrorism. Chennai, Sep 13 : The Left parties have decided to contest the upcoming Assembly bypolls in Madurantakam and Dharapuram independently, while continuing to extend outside support to the Tamilaga Vettri Kazhagam (TVK)-led Tamil Nadu government, party sources said on Sunday. The CPI-M will field its candidate in Madurantakam, while the CPI will contest Dharapuram. The decision was taken following separate meetings of the state leaderships of the two parties on Saturday. In the space of just a few days

In the space of just a few days Yemen appeared to be slipping out of its fragile de-escalation and back into the heart of regional tensions. The incident involving the Iranian aircraft that entered Yemeni airspace was not merely a dispute over a flight. It exposed the extent to which the war in Yemen has become intertwined with the confrontation between the United States and Iran, and raised an old question in a new form: Can Yemen remain outside any broader regional escalation? list of 4 items list 1 of 4 50 Houthi fighters killed in renewed clashes in Yemen list 2 of 4 Somalia warns Israel against meddling in Somaliland list 3 of 4 What is going on in Yemen? list 4 of 4 Yemen's Houthis threaten Saudi Arabia after alleged airspace intrusion end of list The Iranian aircraft's attempt to land in Sanaa, the subsequent targeting of the airport runway to prevent it from doing so and its eventual landing in Hodeidah opened a dispute that extends far beyond civil aviation. The internationally recognised Yemeni government and Saudi Arabia treated the flight as a test of sovereignty and of Iran's ability to establish a direct link with Houthi-controlled areas. The Houthis and Tehran, meanwhile, presented it as an attempt to break the restrictions imposed on Sanaa. The Houthis' response against Saudi Arabia was therefore not entirely unexpected. Their targeting of Abha airport in retaliation for the strike on Sanaa airport that prevented the aircraft from landing marked the first Houthi-claimed attack on Saudi Arabia since the informal truce began in March 2022. So far, however, the attack has remained limited, and Saudi Arabia has not responded with a full-scale military campaign. This suggests that, despite the heightened escalation, both sides are still proceeding with careful calculations. Advertisement It was in this context that the US Department of State responded to a question from a television channel about reports that President Donald Trump had given Saudi Arabia the green light to act against the Houthis. Washington did not explicitly confirm those reports. It said it was monitoring them, before firmly affirming its support for Saudi Arabia in confronting what it described as Iranian aggression, including attacks by the Iranbacked Houthis. More importantly, the State Department directly linked Houthi attacks and the threats the group has issued to core US interests in the region, foremost among them freedom of navigation in the Red Sea and preventing the export of terrorism. This language does not mean that a decision to go to war has been made. But it does indicate that the Houthis' place in US calculations has changed. Get instant alerts and updates based on your interests. Be the first to know when big stories happen. Yes, keep me updated The group is no longer viewed solely as a Yemeni actor, but as part of Iran's network of influence, capable of threatening both Saudi Arabia and the Red Sea.

Amaravati – Minister Atchannaidu has earned special recognition for effectively utilizing the e-filing system to minimize delays in government services and accelerate decision-making. Achieving a hat-trick by securing the top spot in e-file clearance for the third consecutive time stands as a testament to his performance. He is enhancing administrative speed by leveraging technology to eliminate the long-standing issue where files in government offices would take days or weeks to move. A Model for Other Departments CM Chandrababu stated that Minister Atchannaidu's performance demonstrates how the effective use of the e-filing system can reduce administrative delays and expedite decision-making. He commended the achievement of securing the top spot in e-file clearance for the third consecutive time, noting that this is no ordinary feat but a reflection of disciplined performance and the ability to make swift decisions. Public confidence in the administration grows when the government machinery operates with the spirit that "no file should remain pending, and public work must not be delayed." Minister Atchannaidu's performance exemplifies the message that better governance is delivered to the people only when speed, transparency, and accountability come together. Prioritizing Technology in Public Governance E-filing is emerging as a crucial tool for the rapid implementation of government decisions and the elimination of unnecessary delays in file processing. The Chief Minister noted that the successive successes achieved by Atchannaidu through the effective use of this system pave the way for the goals of "swift decision-making, transparent administration, and improved public services." ANNADANAM: A TRUE TESTAMENT TO HUMANITY! MONTHLY 'ANNADANAM' (FOOD DONATION) HELD IN MEMORY OF ANCESTOR

Nandigama :Ratham Center: The 'Annadanam' program organized in Nandigama conveyed a powerful message: there is no greater humanitarian service than feeding the hungry. On the occasion of the Amavasya (New Moon day) of the Sravana month, a food donation drive was grandly organized at Nandigama's Ratham Center at 12:00 PM on Friday, in memory of the late Kandukuri Venkata Satyanarayana. The event was conducted under the leadership of the late Satyanarayana's wife, Shanthakumari; his son, Kandukuri Bharanikumar; daughter-in-law, Bhuvaneshwari; and grandsons, Kaushik and Satyasatvik. It was supported by the financial contributions of various donors and prominent individuals. Food That Satisfied Hunger Approximately 400 people—including pedestrians, travelers, construction workers, manual laborers, passersby, and women—partook of the Anna Prasadam (sanctified food offering) at the Ratham Center. By providing a meal to ordinary people who are constantly on the move—regardless of scorching sun, rain, work, or travel—the organizers truly embodied the essence of humanity. This event demonstrated that one does not need high office or immense wealth to serve others; if the will exists, one person can stand in support of another. Food Donation on Amavasya: Honoring Ancestors Through Service Speaking on the occasion, event founder and organizer Parepalli Saibabu noted that performing Annadanam (food donation) on Amavasya (the new moon day) is considered highly auspicious in Hindu tradition. He mentioned that it is customary to conduct service activities while remembering one's ancestors and praying for the peace of their souls. He emphasized that honoring ancestors need not be limited to rituals alone; one can benefit society by undertaking service activities in their memory—such as feeding the hungry and helping those in need. "Food donation does not merely satisfy an individual's hunger; it also fosters humanity within society," Saibabu said. He urged everyone to participate in service activities to the best of their ability. Appreciation for the Kandukuri Family Many people commended the family of Kandukuri Bharani Kumar for consistently organizing food donation drives and feeding hundreds of people in memory of the late Kandukuri Venkata Satyanarayana. They praised the initiative of linking the remembrance of ancestors with social service as exemplary and expressed the hope that more families would come forward to undertake similar service activities. Donors are the Backbone of Service Activities The organizers expressed appreciation for the support provided by various donors—including Ketepalli Venkata, Vishnuvardhan Gupta, Nagamani, Nomula Manikumar, Pushpashri, Siri Chandana, and Padmalekhana—towards this food donation program. Many remarked that as long as hunger, poverty, and unmet needs exist in society, there will be a continued need for philanthropy and service activities; they noted that if everyone extends a helping hand to others in their own way, society will become more humane. Delimitation targeted at Muslim votes loss - Mohammad Ali Khan complains to Commissioner

Kadapa, The Congress Party has expressed strong objection to the delimitation process undertaken by the Kadapa Municipal Corporation before the elections. Allegations that Muslim voters were removed from the lists in large numbers in the name of re-division of divisions are creating a political uproar. Congress Party State General Secretary Pathan Mohammad Ali Khan reacted strongly to this matter. On Friday, Pathan Mohammad Ali Khan and former Congress Party corporator Mayana Rahmatullah Khan met Kadapa Municipal Corporation Commissioner Bhavani Prasad and lodged a written complaint. They demanded an immediate investigation into the alleged irregularities in the delimitation and justice for the voters. Where are the 2,000 votes in Division 45? He alleged that the Muslim votes of the housing complexes from door number 7/785 to 7/1098 in the local 45th division were completely deleted. He said that the details of about 2 thousand voters from this area are currently missing. He also stated that there is no information that these voters have been merged into another division. He said that the disappearance of the details of voters in one area in the name of delimitation is a serious issue and the authorities should conduct a thorough investigation into this. The situation is the same in the 52nd division! He said that the details of about 80 houses in the 52nd division have been deleted, and the details of about 500 voters are also missing in other divisions. He alleged that the details of about 2,500 voters have been lost in these two divisions alone. He said that such changes are taking place especially in areas with a large number of Muslim voters. "This is not delimitation.. but deletion of votes!" While the delimitation process should have been carried out impartially and transparently, the commissioner brought to his attention that he was receiving complaints that the divisions were being re-divided targeting Muslim voters.

"The right to vote is the constitutional right of every citizen. Removing a voter from the list in the name of changing the division is against the spirit of democracy. The authorities should answer why such developments have taken place in areas with a large number of Muslim voters," he questioned. The authorities should conduct a war footing investigation. He demanded that the votes removed in the 45th division be restored in the same division as usual. He also demanded that the details of the voters in the 52nd division as well as other divisions be thoroughly examined. He demanded that a full-scale audit be conducted on the changes made in the delimitation, including house numbers, voter lists, and division-wise, and steps be taken so that not a single voter is subjected to injustice. "If justice is not done, Congress movement" warned that the officials should respond immediately and conduct an investigation into the lost votes and provide justice to the affected voters. He made it clear that if the problem is neglected without solving it, a large-scale agitation will be launched under the auspices of the Congress party. We will not stand idly by if voters' rights are tampered with. Were there really irregularities in the delimitation? Why did Muslim voters disappear in large numbers? The officials should give clear answers to the people on the issues," he demanded. Former Congress party vice president Sirajuddin, Congress party leaders Rafi Khan, Mujahid and others participated in the program.
